“ Liz was like a mother and best friend to me when i was a youngster and then became the grandmother to my child that Rick and I had together. We had so much fun together we rode alot of snowmobiles in the winter time and laughed so hard we cried on numerous occasions. They taught me alot about what it was like living on a farm. I experienced things in life that i never would have without the farm. I am forever grateful for these memories. They taught me how to work hard and be a part of a family I did not have I thought at the time. She sent me these pics recently, she thought I would like to have them. She is now with God and her family and expecially her son Mike. I was very hard on her to lose her youngest child, he was so young. I missed her alot when she moved to California and I did not get to go visit her their. She will always be a great friend of mine and mentor to hard work!! I send my prayers to our family. I am so glad she got to see the twin great granddaughters thanks to technology. Love you always Liz. My hard is sad.I will see you again my friend.
