“ *Les Sherman was a good man. He was not blood related; however, he was like an uncle to me. As the best friend to my father Mike Allgood we would visit Les at his home and spend time with him. As kids he took us fishing and let me steer he semi when hauling corn. I have many great memories and will cherish forever. It has been 8 year since his passing and he is missed. In death a burial is for remembrance. Eight years later this man still has no headstone. I am saddened to believe in death he is not remembered or thought of by his family. Les, you were a good person and are missed. You will have a headstone soon. Love Ryan
